MAKING A DIFFERENCE AROUND THE WORLD

GREATER SECURITY

Product quality, system reliability and strong partnerships - that's what counts at Armacell

Thanks to a combination of internal quality monitoring and external supervision by independent institutes we can guarantee products of consistently high quality. With our premium product AF/ArmaFlex you can be absolutely certain that you really are installing the high quality material you expect.

Successful, close cooperation between all those involved in the market is essential. From the certified insulation material wholesaler to the certified insulator, from the specifier to the project developer or installer: Armacell maintains close contacts to all those involved. As a result of more than 50 years of experience in the application of ArmaFlex throughout the world, Armacell is able to provide wide-ranging, wellfounded and highly-competent advice. This means that you can be absolutely sure to receive a long-lasting, high-quality insulation system.

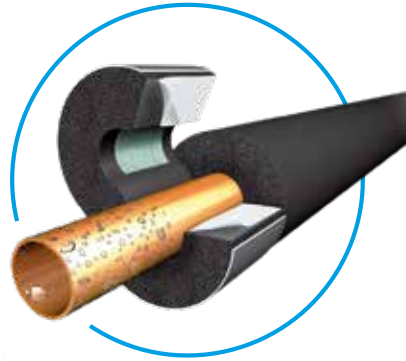

“The performance and reliability of an insulation depend on how professionally it is installed. That's why we not only specify ArmaFlex and ArmaFix in our projects, but explicitly ask for the ArmaFlex System Warranty to ensure long-term performance.”

*¹ The benefits are only available for professional insulators and insulation companies. Please contact your local Armacell sales representative to find out more.

*² Compliance with the Armacell application guidelines is decisive for the warranty. In the event of non-compliance, in particular installation errors or incorrect sizing of the insulation, the resulting defects and/or damage are not covered by the warranty. After the statutory warranty period has expired, claims arising from the warranty extended to 5 (or 10) years include reimbursement of the verifiable costs for materials, wages and direct consequential damage. The warranty begins with the delivery of the materials by Armacell.

YOUR BENEFITS

// Improve your position when contracts are awarded.
To give you an advantage over your competitors when it comes to tenders and bids, Armacell offers specialist companies*¹ the exclusive opportunity to increase the statutory 2-year warranty period to an extensive manufacturer warranty of up to 10 years.

// Protect your clients against unexpected costs in the future.
Customers always expect excellent quality and absolute reliability – you can now confidently offer both and thus continue to maintain strong customer relationships for years to come.

- Higher reliability and protection against costs or repairs.
- Professional, fully documented installation.
- The certainty that the products installed are of the highest quality.

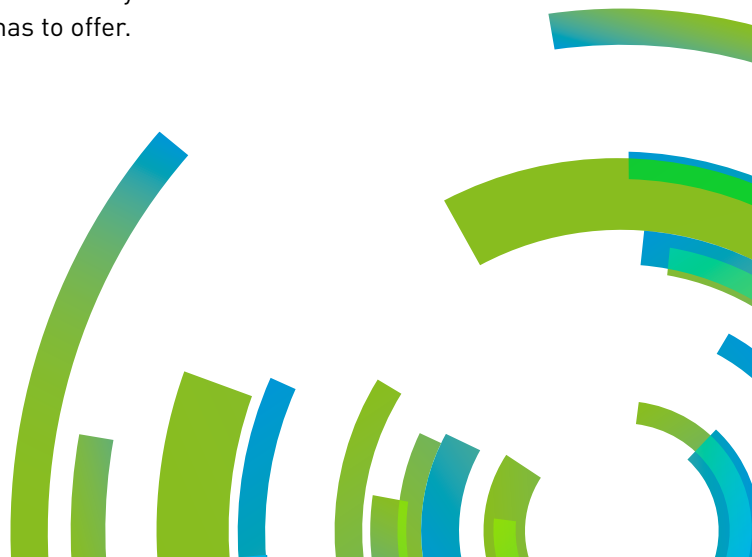

*¹The benefits are only available for professional insulators and insulation companies. Please contact your local Armacell sales representative to find out more.

SYSTEM SOLUTION

The Armaflex System Warranty is a partner scheme in which trained and certified insulation companies benefit from a warranty of up to ten years instead of the statutory two-year warranty period. The ArmaFlex system warranty not only gives the certified companies a direct competitive advantage, specifiers, trade partners and clients also benefit from this seal of quality. Quality and reliability are crucial in cold insulation. In many markets, insulation companies take part in Armacell's training courses on a regular basis and have already been certified as trained ArmaFlex installation companies.

When awarding contracts, customers are looking for certainty – like all of us.

- // Stand out from the competition.
- // Build high levels of trust with your clients.
- // Win more contracts and tenders, because you can offer customers higher certainty.
- // Take this opportunity to remind your clients what your company has to offer.
